

MEET MICHIGAN AUTHOR AND POET LAURA KASISCHKE

Join Michigan author, poet and U-M professor Laura Kasischke to discuss her award-winning novels and read selections of her poetry. She has published eight books of poetry and ten novels, two of which ("The Life Before Her Eyes" and "Suspicious River") were made into feature films. She received the National Book Critics Circle Award for Poetry in 2012, and has received fellowships from the Guggenheim Foundation and the National Endowment for the Arts, several Pushcart Prizes, and most recently, the 2013 Michigan Author Award.
