Are you connected with Scholastic FACE? They offer pretty inexpensive books to people who are giving them away. I've never been to the warehouse sale, so I can't tell you if the FACE books are any cheaper. I think the range is generally $1-$4 per title. If you want multiple copies of a single title, it's always worth a look at Deadalusbooks.com, too. Hit and miss for us; clearance pricing on all kinds of books. There's another one we've heard great things about, but haven't used yet. Firstbook.org is the website. They have quite a few books for less than $2 each.

Good luck!

I use Scholastic FACE for my summer reading books. I use their bargain book collection which contains 100 books for approximately $150. I get a nice selection of books (you don't choose the titles) and they are grouped by grade level.

Hope this helps,

Are you signed up as a Scholastic teacher? Our library is and each month Scholastic Book Club has $1.00 books! This would be a great way to get cheap books.

What we have started doing is using donated monies to purchase Student Birthday Coupons from Scholastic at the end of the summer. The booklet is $34.00 and you get 32 coupons to purchase $5.00 or under books through the Scholastic Book Club. So we tell the donors that by them donating $34.00, we are able to purchase $160 worth of books! It makes them really happy! The coupons are available for purchase in August or September and then expire June 30 of the next year.

I have a coupon for you if you want to join Scholastic!!

Order at scholastic.com/readingclub Redeem this coupon at checkout with your first order of $25 or more.

WE have gotten a lot of books from Treasure Bay Publishing. The books are mostly paperbacks and we use them as a give away for summer reading and our 1,000 books before kindergarten program. We discovered them from a flyer we received in the mail and most of the books we only a $1.00 or $2.00. I would go on line and request a catalog so you can see for yourself. Hope this helps. You might take a look at <https://www.thereadingwarehouse.com/>. They often have sales that include $1 books in a range of reading levels. I've worked with them and have found the quality of the books to be pretty good and even the prices for books other than the $1 ones is often good.
